NURSING

SETTING Community Health Centre

PATIENT You are a 30-year-old university lecturer who has recently (2 weeks ago) had your lower bowel removed due to Crohn's disease and you have been fitted with a colostomy bag. Your vital signs are fine. However, you are depressed and embarrassed about the colostomy bag which you hope will be able to be removed in a few weeks.

- TASK
- When asked, tell the nurse that you're feeling very depressed and embarrassed about the colostomy bag.
 - Tell the nurse that you fear you won't be able to have close contact with students and that sexual relations with your partner will be problematic until it is removed in a few weeks.
 - Express dismay when told by the nurse that the colostomy bag is irreversible.
 - Express concern that despite the nurse's instructions you won't be able to manage changing the bag.
